HOMEWORK #2: Literature Survey

This homework is due at the beginning of class on Tuesday, September 13, 2005.

1. Read chapter 2.

2. For the network that you have selected, do a PubMed search to find papers related to this network. Pay particular attention to any papers you find in which a model of your network is developed.

3. Use electronic resources AND the library (for at least one reference) to obtain copies of at least ten references about your network. A section from a textbook may make one excellent reference.

4. Write a one page summary describing your network and the papers that you found. You may include as many pages of figures and references as you like. Your text should, however, make mention of each figure and reference used.
